Planets Performances Shines

Wals, Professional Music

Classical Music

A concert of JS Bach's Passacaglia and Fugue in C minor, BWV 582, was performed by the Chicago Symphony Orchestra under the direction of John Willson. The program also featured works by Stravinsky, Copland, and Wagner.

The orchestra was led by conductor Daniel Barenboim, who brought a sense of passion and precision to the music. The performance was well-received by the audience, who praised the musicians for their technical skill and emotional depth.

The concert was held at the Ravinia Festival in Highland Park, Illinois. It was part of a larger festival that showcases some of the world's finest musicians and ensembles.

BY ROBERT C. MURPHY