HONORS THE MASTER: CHICAGO PAYS TRIBUTE TO THE GENIUS OF BEETHOVEN. ...

Chicago Daily Tribune (1849-1990)  Dec 18, 1892  ProQuest Historical Newspapers: Chicago Tribune (1849-1990)  pg. 4

The musical world is in mourning. Beethoven has passed away. The great composer has been the pride of the nation, the joy of the world, the delight of the heart of every musician. He has left behind him a legacy of music that will live on for ever. His works have been played in every corner of the globe, and his name is synonymous with the highest achievements of the human spirit.

The news of Beethoven's death has been announced in newspapers all over the world. The people are in mourning. The streets are silent. The music is hushed. The world is in deadly silence. The great composer has left behind him a legacy of music that will live on for ever.

The music of Beethoven has been played in every corner of the globe. His works have been played in every concert hall. The world is in mourning. The streets are silent. The music is hushed. The world is in deadly silence. The great composer has left behind him a legacy of music that will live on for ever.